

Relevant because:

Diversity and inclusivity is a hot topic and for good reason. Teaching children to have cultural awareness from a very early age is the best way forward to beat stereotyping and helps to prevent future classroom racism and bullying.

Use this page to show information about the different books you read. If you need more space, you may make a table on another sheet of paper and glue it in over this page.

Skills: Presentation, cultural intelligence, analysis, introspection, empathy, curiosity, respect.

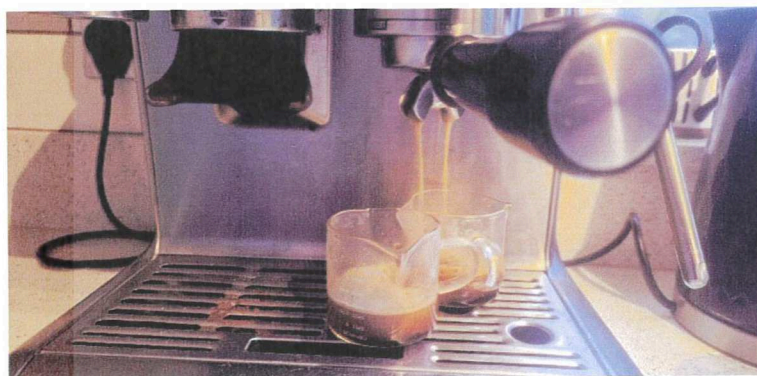

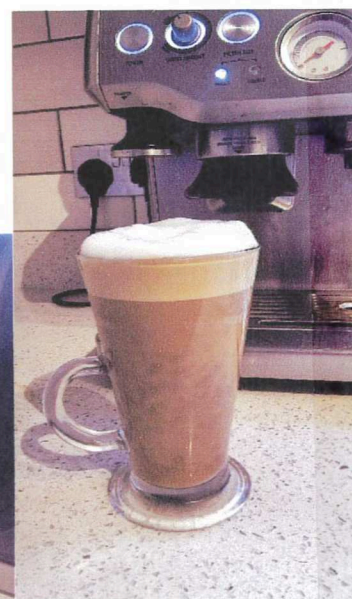

Title of book	Country	How their life differs to mine
1. China's Terracotta Army	China
2. The stone cutter	Japan
3. Handa's surprise	Kenya
4. Secrets of the desert	Mongolia
5. Puzzle of the Pyramid	Egypt

Having read these books, I would most like to visit Japan because I never visited it before. Japan is a country with lots of earthquake. I can learn from the local people how to stay safe during an earthquake. I would like to learn its thousand years of history. I love sushi and noodles. Japan makes the best sushi.

Relevant because:

Children love to learn tasks which they think are just for adults! Teach them to be safe around the kettle and teapot they learn taking the of

Use this page to glue photos of you making the cup of tea or coffee and the recipient enjoying it or you doing the chores.

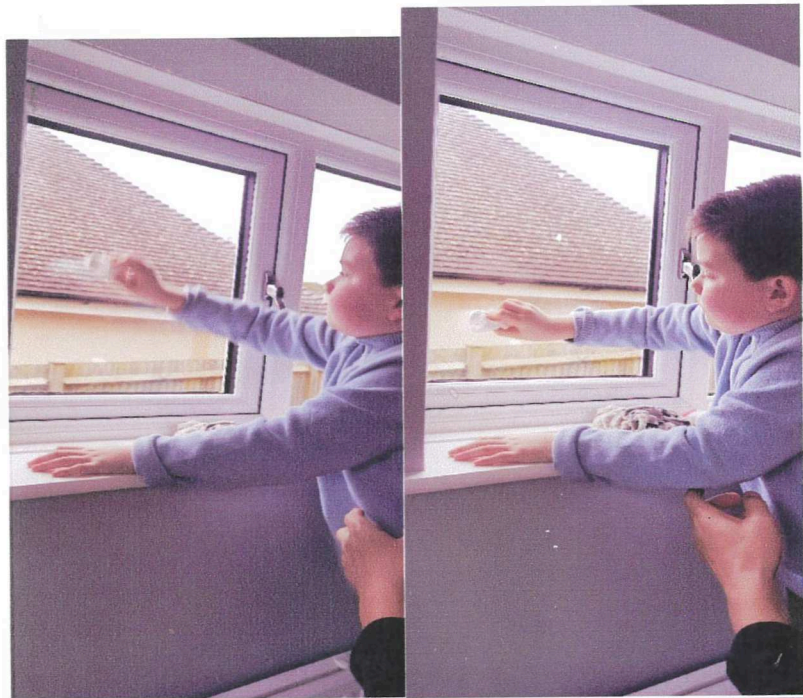

Relevant because:

Trusting your child to wash the car and teaching them how to do it properly gives them a sense of responsibility and teaches them that looking after things helps them to last longer and creates good habits. Be strict and demand good quality!

Use this page to glue photos of you washing the big thing like a car or a window.

Skills: Customer service, gross motor skills, responsibility, following a sequence.

Washing a window
I have washed a

Window many times before. However, this is the first time

I washed a window

with my Chinese grammar book. First

we cleaned the window

around ledge then we washed the frame.

After that we wash^d

the partners lastly,

we washed the window
we used ^{tissue} cloth, dishcloth

and wipes to clean the window. My favorite part was changing the window I washed a high window and I found it hard to

I really like your use of time connections.

Balance. Guaranteed to have held I had me I had
of gum
with granted
David.